

Updated Information about COVID-19 – Novel Coronavirus (27th April 2020)

Changes from previous version highlighted and remaining material has been reorganised.

Current situation

The measures announced by the government on the 23rd March to intensify our efforts to stop “face to face” social contact remain in place. Numbers of cases and hospital admissions have plateaued and have started to show some decrease. Please see slides from national press conference on 26th April 2020 here and press conference can be seen here. Following the “stay at home” messages remains critical, but it is crucial also that people know that they can and should still seek the medical care they need. Human trials of the first coronavirus vaccine, developed by the University of Oxford, have begun this week. A number of new announcements were made on 23rd April about the upscaling of a range of testing programmes, which we will be working through locally in terms of implementation.

People are required to stay at home, except for certain essential activities, including seeking the medical care they need. Non-essential shops and community spaces are closed, and gatherings of more than two people are not allowed – see here and here. This remains critical for reducing spread and protecting the most vulnerable, and protecting the NHS.

There are many ways in which we can use technology to keep in touch with our family, friends and with people who might be more vulnerable/living alone. Guidance has also been published about how to support the mental wellbeing of both adults and children during this time – here and here, as well as some specific guidance for parents here. This complements Mental Health Foundation guidance that can be found here, as well as local guidance about mental health services in Warwickshire here and Coventry here, and details of online parenting support available in Coventry here. The national Every Mind Matters campaign has now launched more resources as part of a new national Coronavirus campaign – see here. Guidance about how people can help friends and family safely can be found here. There is also some new Sports England guidance about staying active - here. Support services for people living with or caring for somebody with dementia in Warwickshire can be found here and support for carers can be found here. Information regarding support for carers in Coventry can be found here.

The key message for all of us is that by strictly following the below, we can reduce the spread of infection, serious illness and deaths:

- Stay at home, except for certain essential activities (shopping for necessities, such as food or medicine), one form of exercise per day, any medical need, or providing care to a vulnerable person, travel to and from work (but only when this is essential). See guidance here with some FAQs here, and additional guidance regarding travel here. If you are going out for essential purposes stay at least 2m away from anyone else. This requirement is even more critical for people with long term conditions, pregnant women and people over the age of 70.

- Support people who are extremely vulnerable to follow the new guidance to protect them from infection. Advice here (includes an easy read guide and translated advice)
- Self-isolate with those in your household if you develop COVID-19 symptoms (however mild). Advice here and here. It is critical that you also access medical help you need for other reasons also, when you need it - by phoning your GP, or 999 in an emergency.
- Wash your hands regularly with soap and water and clean surfaces that are regularly touched with detergents and chlorine-based disinfectants (1000 ppm chlorine).
- Check in on friends/neighbours/family who may be more vulnerable - stay in touch by phone or other digital media. Make sure they are able to keep in touch, and can access help if they need it.

For national and local data regarding numbers of confirmed cases, please see here
Some excellent new weekly surveillance reports have also been published by PHE here.

Key public facing advice.

Key links for public advice can be found here and here

Please see here for national advice documents translated into a range of languages, courtesy of Doctors of the World - videos are now also available. Please note that many of the guidelines below have also had translated versions. Further, national guidance is also included on a daily basis on the Welcome to Coventry app. Although the app relates to Coventry, the information about COVID-19 is based on national guidance, is updated daily, and the Browsealoud (orange button) can be used to translate it into multiple languages. See here. New information (that can be read in different languages) has been loaded onto the Welcome to Coventry app, including advice for Ramadan this year. See coverage regarding the app here

There is now also an easy read version of the main national advice regarding home isolation here, and easy read and translated versions of the Coronavirus information leaflet sent to households in the UK – see here

Support for people in the extremely vulnerable category (i.e. “shielding”) can be accessed in both Coventry and Warwickshire – please see:

<https://www.warwickshire.gov.uk/coronavirusvulnerable>

https://www.coventry.gov.uk/info/1/council_and_democracy/3551/covid-19_coronavirus/8#1

Please also see updated national advice regarding shielded groups here

Please note that support and services available to people who might be vulnerable and staying at home due to coronavirus in Coventry and Warwickshire can be found here:

<https://apps.warwickshire.gov.uk/covid19directory>

https://www.coventry.gov.uk/info/1/council_and_democracy/3551/covid-19_coronavirus/8#1

Travel advice

Travel advice is changing regularly as the situation changes internationally. The Foreign Office now recommend against all non-essential travel worldwide - see here.

Useful guidance, resources and communications materials,

The national COVID-19 action plan can be found here.

A list of national guidance is published here, and this contains guidance for a range of partners/sectors. An alternative way of accessing some of the key information and guidance can now be found here. Additional useful guidance can also be found elsewhere on the gov.uk website.

Hospital discharge guidance relevant to NHS and social care can be found here but is currently under review following the publication of the new action plan for social care. New guidance regarding social distancing in the workplace has been published here and guidance for the charity sector can be found here. A suite of guidance for educational settings has been published here, with new guidance regarding supporting vulnerable children published on 19th April 2020. Guidance regarding children’s social care can be found here and some safeguarding guidance for community volunteers has been issued here. Guidance for staff looking after people who lack mental capacity has been published here. New guidance for commissioners and providers of drug and alcohol services has been published here. And guidance for consumers about Coronavirus and food has been published here.

A new action plan for social care was announced on the 15th April, setting out a number of things including the intention to undertake testing of all care home residents with symptoms, alongside testing on hospital discharge for all people returning to care home settings. Further information regarding implementation will follow. Further information about the upscaling of testing programmes more generally can also found here. Information about frontline staff testing can be found here. All social care guidance, including new guidance about working safely in care homes can be found here. Additional guidance for staff supporting adults with learning disabilities and autistic adults can be found here.

New guidance (including for parents), about staying safe online has been published here.

New information and support for people who experience domestic violence can be found here (for Coventry) and here (for Warwickshire)

Guidance related to the management of funerals has been published here and new guidance for those involved in managing deaths has been published here

The West Midlands Strategic Migration Partnership have just refreshed their website, where they bring together a range of resources relevant to refugee and migrant communities here. This includes new guidance for accessing support if you are a migrant in the UK here

The Coronavirus Emergency Measures Bill has been brought before parliament – a summary of the key impacts can be found here

Please see PHE advice against use of COVID rapid tests that are being marketed here

PHE have produced a “Finding the Evidence” collection of resources - here

A Coronavirus Whatsapp Information Service is also available, allowing people to get answers to the most common questions about coronavirus direct from government. To use the free GOV.UK Coronavirus Information Service on WhatsApp, simply add 07860 064422 in your phone contacts and then message the word ‘hi’ in a WhatsApp message to get started.

The national coronavirus status checker can be found here - anyone with coronavirus symptoms is being asked to use the checker to create a rich national dataset which will help inform interventions going forward, and to monitor impact.

Campaign materials are on the national campaign website here. They are organised into different campaign sections. Campaign materials come in a range of formats – with some easy read materials, audio formats, British Sign language formats (and Braille formats available for order) and some translated versions. Some campaign materials just for young people are also available. Additional resources have been added to the Campaign website, including Ramadan at home resources, and resources in support of the Every Mind Matters COVID-19 campaign (with translated versions now available), and a focus on resources for Black and Minority Ethnic communities. The Children’s commissioner has produced a children’s guide to Coronavirus. This should be circulated alongside the NHS handwashing video

Some key comms messages related to Ramadan have been published here. A new PHE blog about staying at home during Ramadan can be found here.

London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine has worked with Future Learn to develop a new free to access online learning programme on COVID-19

Imperial College London have just opened up a new online COVID course,